INSULT U. S. SOLDIERS

Paris, Feb. 22.—Dr. Alonzo Taylor, American special representative, who investigated conditions in Germany, has reached Paris, and these are some interesting facts he reports

American soldiers first were received cordially, but are now being insulted by women in public places.

German soldiers, no longer salute their own former officers, but salute American officers.

The morale of the Germans has sunk so low that university men say there is no hope in the present generation. Plays on degeneracy occupy the stage.

Crime of all kinds is rampant. The answer of the police is that men cannot be trained for crime for years and then be expected to act as good citizens.

Nearly 300,000 men are out of work in Berlin. The same proportion obtains in other places. The men do not want work because they cannot make as much money as the government allows them without work. The government is afraid to stop these allowances.

Germany is willing to compensate in money for the damage she has done. She is unwilling to give up Alsace-Lorraine, or to cede Danzig to the Poles.

There is no great anger against authors of the war, save Tirpitz and the ex-crown prince. The Germans hold the Kaiser least responsible of all

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING

People who live in these strenuous times are really lucky, for most of us are just waiting to die. But there is a consolation in the moving pictures, because you can forget dull care and pass away an hour or two enjoying the screen artists. It is a blessing that the motion pictures came into existence. Nowadays when you return to your home and find, as is many times the case a disagreeable wife, you can hie yourself to moving pictures and forget you ever saw her. The Grand Theatre on Monday will give you a show that will drive away dull care and cause you to laugh. You will also have the eighth episode of "The Iron Test." Those who have seen this series will not miss it. Those who have not will be benefited the more by visiting this theatre Monday afternoon or night. Matinee at 2.30 and continuous show.

DRY AGENT IS SLAIN

W. E. Payne, State Prohibition Inspector, Shot by Negro Prisoner at Rosslyn—Assailant Escapes—Two Clews May Lead to Capture.

William E. Payne, thirty-nine years old, a state prohibition inspector, who lived at Fort Myer Heights, Alexandria county, was shot and killed at 7 o'clock last night by an unidentified colored man. The shooting was staged in the rear of the Arlington Trust Company's building at Rosslyn.

Payne immediately following the shooting was rushed in an automobile to the Georgetown University Hospital. The race against death, however, proved futile, for Payne died before that institution was reached, death ensuing in about twenty minutes after the shot was fired. The bullet entered his left eye piercing the brain.

Payne, however, was taken into the hospital where the attending physicians pronounced life extinct. Coroner Nevitt gave a certificate of death from gun shot wound.

Only a few minutes before Payne met his end he was with his wife driving her to his home at Fort Myer Heights. He saw a colored man whom he supposed had whisky in his possession. He remarked to his wife that he was going after the man. She left the machine, intending to go to a nearby store and make some purchases after which she proposed going to her home.

Wife Finds Husband.

Mrs. Payne had gone but a short distance when she heard the shot, and retracing her steps she found her husband lying in the road with a bullet wound in his head. Several citizens in the meantime had collected.

In a short time Sheriff Howard Fields and Commonwealth's Attorney Frank L. Ball were on the scene and rushed the dying man in an automobile to the hospital in Georgetown.

Shot After Arresting Man

Payne had placed the colored man under arrest and had him in his automobile intending to take him to the jail on Fort Myer Heights when he jumped out and ran. The prisoner had gone but a short distance when he turned and fired on Payne.

At the time Payne was found lying in the road the engine of his machine was still running and this strengthens the belief that he had his prisoner in the machine.

Cap and Six Quarts Evidence

Six quarts of whiskey and a cap are the clews to the murderer the county authorities have in their possession. The paper wraping about the whiskey bearing the name of a Washington firm and this it is believed may lead to the arrest of the prohibition inspector's assailant. The cap of the man evidently was dropped in his flight.

After conveying Payne to the hospital Sheriff Fields and Commonwealth's attorney Ball spent the remainder of the night in search of the assailant. A colored suspect giving a Washington address was taken, but the authorities feel satisfied that he is not the man wanted and the search today is progressing in a satisfactory manner, a number of citizens of Alexandria county are aiding the authorities.

The county officers who have the co-operation of the Washington police in the search for the murderer.

Payne besides his wife is survived by a young daughter.

Terror to Bootleggers

Payne was a terror to the vilators of the prohibition law. He probably had more arrests to his credit in Virginia than any other inspector employed under the Rev. J. Sidney Peters, state prohibition inspector, under whom he worked. Rev. Mr. Peters is in Alexandria county today investigating the case.

For about two years Payne had been employed as a prohibition inspector. He trailed bootleggers frm every part of the state and his greatest number of arrests were made between this city and Washington, although at tims Payne was transferred to other parts of the state and frequently he made arrests in Fredericksburg and other pints.

Many of his arrests were made on both steam and electric trains and some in automobiles. In a majority of the cases the courts fined those accused of violating the law $50 to which was added a jail sentence of thirty days. Thousand of quarts of liquor every month were confiscated by Payne.

Payne was unusually active and during the past month made a total of 103 arrests in Alexandria county.

Only yesterday Payne appeared in this city and testified before a special grand jury in a number of liquor cases. As a result of his activity he naturally made many enemies among those engaged in the liquor traffic and when the report of the shooting was first made it was thought that possibly it was a premeditated affair. This however, proved to be without foundation.

Meets Same Tragic End.

Inspector Payne is the second prohibition officer to lose his life in the discharge of his duty during the past eight months.

J. C. Shelhorse, who formerly worked under Payne in this city, was shot and killed the night of June 35 by a colored man named James A. Davis just as a steam train entered this city. Davis was captured tried and convicted and sentenced to serve seven years in the penitentiary by a jury in the corporation court August 14, 1918.

Peters Lauds Payne.

State Prohibition Commissioner J. Sidney J. Peters, was immediately notified of the murder of Payne and arranged to leave Richmond at once for Rosslyn. Before leaving Commissioner Peters declared that in Payne's death the department had suffered a well nigh irreparable loss. He said that Mr. Payne had been in the work more than a year, and had arrested more violators of the law than any other member of the Prohibtion Department.

JAILING 'RED' AGITATORS

Many I. W. W. From America to be Deported as Big Strike Threatens

London, Feb. 22.—In the face of Premier Lloyd George's warning to the miners that "the country which has faced four years and a half of perils and horrors of war is not very easily going to hand over the government to a triumphant industry." miners' ballots pouring in show that a majority of 90 per cent out of a total of 200,000 voting is in favor of a national miners' strike March 15.

Despite the plea to delay the strike until the governmental commission has reported on its inquiry into the demands of the miners, the strike vote will mean that fifteen days before the report is expected all mines will be tied up with the added menace of a sympathy strike by railway workers.

The only favorable sign is that a majority of the miners' executive committee favors postponement of the strike pending the commission's report.

If the strike is called it will be free from any great Bolshevist terror. The government is jailing scores of terrorists and I. W. W. agitators, not a few of them from America, These will be deported.

The strike, if called, will affect 800,000 miners and tens of thousands of sympathizers in other trades, in what Premier Lloyd George warns against as a "terrible national calamity."

GETS EIGHT HUN SHIPS

Imperator Among Enemy Steamers Allocated to America

Washington, Feb. 22—Definite information reached the War Department Thursday that eight German steamships, including the Imperator, had been allocated to the United States for transporting troops from France.

All of these ships, now at Hamburg, have been inspected and examining boards reported they were ready for immediate service. They will provide accommodations for from 50,000 to 60,000 additional troops monthly.

Sufficient tonnage now is available or in sight it was stated officially yesterday, to return every American soldier from Europe before the end of the coming summer if such a policy were decided upon by the Government

Embarkations from overseas up to March 1 will total 400,000 leaving approximately 1,600,000 man in France and Germany, according to these official estimates. March embarkataions are expected to reach a miniumum of 200,000 and April at least 225,000. The monthly rate for May, June July and August is expected to exceed 300,000.

WASHINGTON HONORED

Day Observed by Suspension of Business—Wreaths Placed on Tomb at Mount Vernon—The Mecca of Many Tourists

Alexandria today paid honor to the memory of Washington. Banks, city and government officers were closed all day. Hundred of tourists during the day visited his tomb at Mount Vernon and flags fluttered from a number of buildings on King street.

Memorial wreaths during the day were placed on his tomb, one being from the George Washington National Masonic Memorial Association and one from the George Washington Birthday Association, this city.

Trips by the representatives of these organization were made on the palace car Mount Vernon.

Souvenir cherries were sold today on the streets by young women to raise funds for the children's play grounds association.

Many of the stores closed at noon. Owing to the fact that the day is Saturday a majority, however, kept open all throughout the day.

INGOMAR—The Challenge Accepted

When the signing of the selective service draft challenged the young men of our country to fight for democracy, the natives of Sparhook, buried deep in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, greeted the news with varying degrees of disgust and contempt. Knowing nothing of the great world outside their hills, they could not understand why they should be forced to leave their homes to fight for something that, as they saw it, meant nothing to them.

"The Challenge Accepted," the first Arden photoplay, starring the charming Zena Keefe, shows at the Ingomar tonight.

A PERTINENT QUERY

Can an Amendment to the Constitution be Unconstitutional.

An academic, although somewhat interesting, discussion about the Federal Constitution has appeared in the columns of the New York Times. The question is whether the Supreme Court of the United States or any other tribunal has the power to adjudicate as to the constitutionality of the Constitution itself or of any of the amendments thereof. One correspondent of the Times scoffs at such a proposition, and declares that the Supreme Court has never, in its long history of 130 years, attempted to adjudicate, directly or collaterally, as to the constitutionality of a single line in the Federal Constitution. The people of the United States, can the writer says, ratify an amendment abolishing the Supreme Court.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear wife, TACY ROSE, who departed this life, one month ago today, January 22, 1919.

Dear Tacy you have left me
In this world to weep and mourn
But some day we will meet to part no more
Gone from life, yes gone, forever
Tear dimmed eyes, shall look in vain
Until I reach that shining city
Then I'll meet my love again.
By your bedside I sat and watched you
Pass from life to yonder blissful shore
Now I'll wait and trust in Jesus
Till we meet to part no more.

By her devoted husband.

TAKES TURN FOR WORSE

Throughout Yesterday Clemenceau Had Seemed Past Crisis—Anarchist Plan to Assassinate Both the Premier and Wilson.

Paris, Feb. 22.—Premier Clemenceau's condition late yesterday evening was critical, though throughout the day he had seemed on the road to speedy recovery.

At this cabling his physicians are in consultation.

"Nothing can be said now," was the answer to inquiries of correspondents. There is danger, it is said, of embolism setting in, which is the obstruction of an artery or vein by a blood clot, the complication which caused Theodore Roosevelt's death.

Physicians attending Premier Clemenceau announced that they considered him out of danger, and that they believed he would be able to resume his usual political duties within thirty-six hours.

The premier received the members of the supreme war council this afternoon. Previously he had eaten a hearty lunch.

The "Tiger" had picked up remarkably overnight, and the doctors thought he would be able to resume his duties by Monday. He himself was sure of this.

Rumors were circulated in Paris yesterday that several plots have been unearthed in Switzerland, regarded as the hotbed of pro-German and extremist conspiracies, in connection with the attack on Premier Clemenceau. One report was that radicals had planned to assassinate both Clemenceau and President Wilson.

DEPLORES DEED

German Press Unanimous in Condemning Attempt to Assassinate French Premier.

London, Feb. 22.—The German press is unanimous in condemning the assault on Premier Clemenceau and is prompted in this particularly by the fear of further incitation of national feeling in France against Germany, according to excerpts from German newspapers transmitted by wireless yesterday. The Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung says:

"The Paris criminal has done no service to the cause of peace. Clemenceau's enmity against the Germans is no reason for not branding the attempt on his life an execrable crime. The infinite foolishness of the attempt is mitigated only by the fact that it was unsuccessful."

"We greatly regret the act, which may lead to French national feeling being further intensified," says Vorwaerts

700 REDS SLAIN

3,000 Spartacans Bombard and Capture Town of Bettrup

Copenhagen, Feb. 22.—Seven hundred Spartacans have been killed in battles in the Ruhr district according to latest word from Berlin.

Three thousand "reds" violently bombarded and captured the town of Bettrup, raiding the town hall and brutally treating citizens. Government troops are on the way to the town.

The Berlin government states it may be a week before the Ruhr district riots are suppressed. The Spartacans are strongly fortified in Muehlheim.

The general strike has been ended, but new riots have developed in Bocum, Gotha, Hamburg and other cities.

German government troops, operating with Foch's permission, have recaptured from the Spartacans all public buildings in Elberfeld. Fighting continued until noon yesterday, when in agreement with the allies the troop withdrew until this morning, leaving a guard to maintain order.

Elberfeld is in the neutral zone, east of the Rhine.

Richmond—"The Land of the Free."

It is extremely seldom that a picture causes anything like the amount of talk that has been evoked by the Wiliam Fox photoplay "The Land of the Free," that is nearing the end of its run at the Richmond tonight. This picture that tells the life story of General Pershing, is immensely important and at the same time one of the most thrilling and entertaining plays that has ever been presented on the screen. It is talked about everywhere and every one should realize that it is not to be missed.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

While there has been no parade in Alexandria today, it is nevertheless a general holiday. Many persons have visited Mount Vernon during the day and stood in front of the sarcophagus bearing the remains of him who was first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen.

Washington in his Farewell Address, among other things, said: "My first wish is to see war, this plague to mankind, banished from off the earth and the sons and daughters of this world employed in more pleasing and innocent amusements than in preparing implements and exercising them for the destruction of mankind."

These words are the words of a soldier, a man who had been a man of war from his youth, who knew what war meant and who never drew his sword in an unrighteous cause. Since Washington's day America has produced great generals and great statesmen and pure patriots. But not one who combined so many of those great qualities that made him one of the greatest among the children of men.

ANOTHER MURDER

Two officers of the law have been assassinated in Alexandria city and county in less than a week. On Friday morning Policeman Walker Campbell was shot to death on Alexandria's principal street, and early last night W. E. Payne, Prohibition Inspector, met a similar fate in the rear of a bank at Rosslyn. The alleged murderer of Campbell was indicted by the grand jury yesterday, but the slayer of Payne is at large and, so far, unidentified.

Five murders in Alexandria was last year's report. The first two months of the present year have not as yet passed away, and a murder for each month is recorded.

No matter what our opinions may be concerning the practicability of prohibition, and the arguments pro and con may be logical, the fact that two prohibition agents have lost their lives since last June while in the performance of their duties shows the grave conditions exisiting in our day. J. C. Shelhorse, another inspector, it will be remembered, was shot and killed at union passenger station in this city last June. Many observations made at that time were proof conclusive that the deceased had enemies, and the news of the killing of Payne was received by some with expressions far from sympathetic.

This element, however, does not reflect the principles of the great majority, who are respectors of law, and many words of sympathy are uttered for the widow and little girl now sobbing over the lifeless form of a dear one suddenly taken from them.

There is every reason to believe that Mr. Payne was assassinated. His lips were virtually sealed death when he was found with a bullet in his brain. The murderer is as Cain, a fugitive, but the words of inspiration never fail—"Be sure your sin will find you out." Let us hope he will be identified, arraigned and made to pay the penalty for his deed.

ERA OF ASSASSINATIONS

The ink on the papers of the attempt to kill Premier Clemenceau had barely time to dry before dispatches were received telling of the slaying of Eisner, the Bavarian Premier, and while Herr Auer, the Bavarian Minister of the Interior, was announcing the assassination to the Diet he, too, was shot down, and two members of the body wounded.

Dispatches from points in Russia show that eleven archbishops have been murdered for no other reason than the fact that they were good men.

Several weeks ago, it will be remembered, a member of the Bolsheviki entered a church in Russia, walked up to the chancel and shot the priest to death. He subsequently drove the worshippers from the edifice, saying religion is a humbug.

We make no comment upon such occurrences and leave the reader to draw his own conclusions concerning the age in which we are living.

THE TURN IN AFFAIRS

When the Germans started for Paris in 1914 they carried innumerable post cards bearing pictures of prominent buildings in the French capital. This horde was boiling over with enthusiasm, as they were sure they would be at their objective in about six weeks. They were to send the cards to friends in Germany.

But the best laid plans of men are liable to miscarriage. Instead of the Huns sending their messages from Paris to Germany, soldiers of the allies are in a position to send such missives from Berlin. American soldiers are now in the German capital, and their friends in the United States will soon be receiving pictures of the Unter den Linden, Wilhelm-Strasse, the imperial palace, the Reichstag building, statues of Bismarck, etc.

The One Hundred and Thirteenth Regiment has reached Berlin and is guarding American property there, according to dispatches from the other side.

The slogan, "On to Berlin," has become a reality, and American property in Berlin is safe in their hands. There is reason to believe that Virginians are among the Americans, as some were sent from Anniston.

The Star Spangled Banner now is floating serenely in Berlin, and much sooner than any of us dared to hope. Its presence marks anew the triumph of democracy over autocracy, the downfall of the great image whose brightness was excellent and the form terrible, whose head was of fine gold, but the feet iron and clay.

This is the first time that a foreign army has entered the capital of Germany in triumph in more than a century. The last time was when Napoleon, at the head of a French army, took possession and drove the King and Queen of Prussia into Russia. The whirligig of time brings its revenges.

This is 1919. Resolve to advertise your merchandise in The Gazette consistently throughout the year.

BAREFACED FRAUD

The place to begin the attack on prohibition, on which the American people have never been permitted to vote, is with the war time prohibition art, which goes into effect July 1 and has no relation to the Eighteenth Amendment. This law is a purely arbitrary exercise of Congressional power exerted under false pretenses. Pretending to be a war measure, it did not become a law until ten days after the armistice had been signed and the fighting had ceased. Purporting to have been enacted in order to "conserve the man power of the Nation" and to "increase efficiency in the production of arms, munitions, ships, food, and clothing for the Army and Navy," the treaty of peace will have been framed and most of the American troops will have been demobilized before the law goes into effect. All of the professed objects of the act are obviously false. It is the most barefaced fraud known in the history of American legislation. Congress has no principles and no conviction on the subject of prohibition. It will repeal the act of November 21 whenever it has the slightest reason to believe that its own political hide is more in danger from the opponents of the law than from the supporters. If public sentiment is to have any weight whatever in respect to prohibition in the United States it should begin at once with Congress and this fraudulent statute.

SURE OF LOAN'S SUCCESS

Glass Reiterates That Selling Campaign Will be Popular.

Washington, Feb. 22.—Scores of telegrams reaching the Treasury yesterday indicated existence of a wide misapprehension that the Victory Liberty Loan had been abandoned or modified materially by decision of the House Ways and Means Committee to oppose issuance of notes instead of bonds. This prompted Secretary Glass to reiterate that the campaign would be held as planned, that it would begin April 21, or possibly earlier, and that it would be popular in nature, with the expectation of selling the securities to millions of Americans of small means.

The Secretary further expressed strong confidence that the loan would be not only subscribed but oversubscribed. Patriotic impulse of most citizens will prompt them to subscribe to the limit of their abilities, said the Secretary, and business interests will give strong support for the additional reason that the financial and commercial soundness of the country depends on the Government's payment of its debts.

Mr. Glass said the Treasury had not determined the denomination of the securities to be issued but he intimated that they would be as small as $50 as in past loans. The notes would carry no coupons and would mature within five years. Secretary Glass today made public correspondence with the Investment Bankers' Association, which had pledged "absolute and unqualified support" to the Victory Liberty loan. The bankers expressed belief that "the loan will present problems no more difficult of solution than those heretofore met."

A COUNT of parties seeking position through the "situations wanted" columns of last Sunday's Star, Post and Times showed 139. Among the applicants were 14 bookkeepers, 15 clerks, 17 stenographers and typewriters, 3 electricians and 6 chauffeurs. About 80 of the advertisers were persons with qualifications and abilities that would make good radio operators, inspectors and aids, vocations in which they would not have to seek the jobs, as the demand is greater than the supply, and will be for years. The same condition obtains all over the country, and in no paper or magazine did you ever see an advertisement where a radio operator or inspector was seeking a position. In the face of these facts, don't you think wireless a pretty good thing to take up, especially when you can acquire the art right here at home in about 14 weeks? Our school is the largest radio institution in America, is fully equipped with ship apparatus, etc., and our staff of instructors is composed of expert first grade and extra first grade commercial, government licensed operators. Tuition fee small; easy terms. Morning, afternoon and night classes, with hours to accommodate all. No time required from your present employment. Radio inspectors receive $1,200 to $3,500; merchant marine pays $110 and up, with living expenses. Radio aids, $6 and $8 per day. Thousands of commercial houses throughout the country will use wireless after peace has been signed. New classes for beginners will start next Monday, 24th. However, there is some advantage to be gained by starting during the present week. Don't sell or borrow on your liberty bonds. We take them at par and accrued interest with a premium. 2% on Sales
11% on Investment

Isn't this a reasonable profit?

It is what Swift & Company earned in 1918.

2 cents on each dollar of sales—only a fraction of a cent per pound—was too small to have any noticeable effect on prices.

11% on investment (capital and surplus) means only fair returns to the 25,000 shareholders; they received 8% dividends in 1918.

The 1918 earnings of Swift & Company were equivalent to a profit of only

$212 on Sales of $12,000

Would you be content with that margin of profit in your business?

This and many other interesting and instructive facts are shown in our 1919 Year Book, which will be sent on request. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois.

FIND LUXEMBURG'S BODY

Berlin, Feb. 22.—A bruised and battered body of a woman, which, apparently, had been in the water more than three weeks has been discovered in the Landwehr canal, according to the Tageblatt, and, notwithstanding the advanced state of decomposition, acquaintances have identified it as the body of Rosa Luxemburg, the Spartacan leader who was killed January 17.

LOCKS SAFE WITH HER TOE

Pittsburgh, Feb. 22.—Attacked by a negro in a store of the United Cigar Stores Company yesterday, Miss Anna B. Cuneff battled with her assailant, and at the same time using the toe of a shoe, closed an open safe and caused the introduder to flee.

When the negro made a lunge at her, Miss Cuneff, recollecting that the safe was standing open, pushed the door shut with her foot. With the aid of the toe of her shoe she turned the combination knob, causing it to lock. When the plucky woman upset the telephone, the negro became frightened and fled.

BERLIN CURBS NIGHT REVELS

Only Antewar Dance Halls Allowed To Open

Dancing, wine drinking and expensive night revels into which certain classes of the population of Berlin and other large cities have plunged since the signing of the armistice, hereafter will be restricted by the police. Under an order issued today only dance halls that had permits before the war will be allowed to continue and they will be limited to certain days of the week and to a sectain number of hours in the evening. The dance halls and cabarets which have sprung into existence since the armistice will not be licensed after March 15.

The frivolous and profligate night life now prevailing has been criticized generally as being not only inconsistent with Germany's present position, but also unfavorably affecting public opinion abroad.

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try som more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommended it as a splendid female tonic."

300 QUARTS FOUND

Car Bearing Virginia License Tag Confiscated by Officers at Fredericksburg.

Fredericksburg, Feb. 22.—Chief of Police S. B. Perry, Officers J. A. Stone and W. N. Tansill observed a big twenty six automobile moving about in a suspicious manner across the Rappahannock River from this city while they were watching the Free Bridge to see that no bootleggers came by. They secured an automobile and went over to investigate. About one mile from this city they found where a small bridge had been broken through by a car. They made a search and found the car and enarby 300 quarts or more of liquor hid in the bushes and leaves. The men in the car had been watching an opportunity to get over the bridge when they were not on the alert. When they saw the officers were following, they tried to hide the car in the woods and made their escape. The officers reloaded the liquor and brought the car and liquor to this city. The liquor and automobile were confiscated. The license on the car was 3035. Virginia, 1919, and in the car were two other licenses, 48-879. Maryland, and 11-032. District of Columbia. The driver or the occupants of the car could not be found.

BUTTER PRICE SOARS

Sudden Rise Attributed to European Acceptance of American Staple.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Butter is again soaring in price, selling in this market yesterday at 63 cents a pound, while a week ago it could be bought at retail for 47 cents.

The main cause for the sudden rise in price, according to members of the Butter and Egg Board, is the recent decision of the Allies to accept 3,000,000 pounds of American butter after a decision not to take it.

SEEKING $70 PER WEEK

Strikers for $6 Advance at Hog Island Yards Return to Work Today

Philadelphia, Feb. 22.—The 400 foremen at the Hog Island shipyard who struck yesterday for higher pay, resulting in the closing down of the big yard, decided last night to return to work tomorrow and await a final decision on their demands a week from today by Director-General Piez, of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

The foremen, 65 per cent of whom belong to unions, demanded an increase of $6 a week, making $70; time and a half for overtime; double pay for Sunday work and two and a half days' sick allowance each month. They also complained that since the fleet corporation has been retrenching they have had to look after two shifts instead of one.

About 20,000 men were affected by the strike, and the launching of the freighter Saugus, fixed for yesterday had to be postponed.

STRIKE AGAINST BOLSHEVIKI

London, Feb. 22.—Sixty thousand workmen are on strike in Petrograd, demanding the end of civil war and the establishment of free trade, according to a Russian wireless dispatch received here.

Reliable information received in London from scurces which might be expected to be sympathetic with the Russian revolution goes to show that opposition to the Bolshevist rule is increasing among the more enlightened working classes of Russia.

The military situation has changed favorably for the anti-Bolsheviki, especially on the Southern front, as the result of General Denikine's victory in the Caucasus and the apparent failure of Bolsheviki attacks on the Archangel front.
